The "adorkable" Jess is making a fresh start after a messy break-up, and she's begun by searching for a new apartment. She meets Nick, Schmidt and Winston through an online advertisement. Despite a few obvious quirks they ask her to move in, believing she is friends with lots of models. They quickly realise they have signed up for a full-blown goofball, but try to coach Jess to move on – through tears, copious viewings of Dirty Dancing and some hit-and-miss dating. Getting indie darling Zooey Deschanel to portray the gorgeous yet idiosyncratic Jess is the masterstroke of this brand new comedy.

MARY QUEEN OF FROCKS

After a career window dressing at Harrods and looking after retail displays for Topshop, Mary Portas cemented her place at the top of what the industry calls “visual merchandising”. She went on to give advice to struggling businesses in a series of reality TV shows, but Mary Queen of Frocks has her climbing into the hot seat herself – designing, launching and selling her own high-street fashion line aimed at women in their 40s.

THE SLAP

The Slap is based on a popular novel of the same name by Australian author Christos Tsiolkas. It begins when a man slaps a child who is not his own, over a game of backyard cricket at a suburban barbecue. Each episode is told from the vantage point of a different adult in attendance, as they are forced to take sides. Heralded as being brave in its portrayal of varied, multi-cultural perspectives, it pulled in more than a million viewers when it debuted in Australia.
