

LYDIA COLE

Watch out for the name Lydia Cole – she's Kiwi music's hottest new talent. Her five-track EP Love Will Find a Way is a soulful and at times heart-breaking collection of acoustic tunes, which reveals an ability that seems far ahead of her 21 years. Cole's talent has turned the heads of music-industry greats: her EP was recorded at Roundhead Studios at the invitation of Neil Finn.

Cole was impatient to get going on her career. "I remember reading an interview with Brooke Fraser when she said she used to hate having birthdays because it meant another year had passed without having made her first album. I felt the same way in my teens," she says. Love Will Find a Way is a captivating collection – sure to be the first of many.
